Howard Medical is a second-generation medical supply distributor for healthcare providers and other industries across the U.S.

Delivering on our promises since 1978.

We're a family-owned company with the values to match. For almost fifty years, Howard Medical has served customers with integrity at our core. We've evolved our services to suit the needs of an ever-changing industry with high-pressure demands.

Howard Medical has distributed medical supplies to Chicago and the surrounding metro area since 1978. We've grown to become the Midwest's go-to secondary supplier with the capacity to serve the entire U.S.

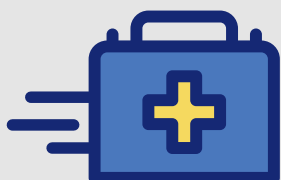

Support where you need it most.

Rely on Howard Medical's innovative supply sourcing and inventory management to reduce supply chain challenges in your business.

1.

Rush Supplies

Emergencies happen – often when you least expect them. When you need in-demand products now to fill supply gaps, we deliver. Our dedicated team responds quickly to your urgent requests for the items you rely on.

2.

Specialized Sourcing

Specialized businesses have unique demands. That's why we have a dedicated team with industry expertise to track down specific products from manufacturers you trust, even when they're highly sought after. Our deep relationships give you the flexibility to place a custom order at the volume you need.

3.

Planned Inventory

Overcome supply chain gaps and pricing fluctuations to gain peace of mind. We source your most important products and hold them in our warehouses for convenient storage and shipment. Track your inventory anytime through your online Howard Medical account to view the exact amount of each product you have in stock.

We supply what your business demands.

Howard Medical is your trusted source for medical supply distribution. Healthcare providers and other people-focused industries across the U.S. trust us to keep their operations running smoothly so they can focus on what they do best: providing patients and customers with the attention they need.
